MESSAGE

I convey my warmest greetings to the members of the Philippine American Medical Association of Georgia (PAMAG) as they conduct their Medical Mission to the people in Dagupan City.

I commend you for your unwavering efforts to deliver selfless service to our people by providing free medical assistance for the benefit of the Filipino people especially our Kababayans in Pangasinan.

The Department of Health extends its Felicitations as you remain loyal and dedicated to your noble undertaking and as we move forward to further improve the delivery of basic health services through the four-pronged One for Health strategy. This approach encompasses health service delivery, good governance, health regulation, and health care financing.

May your camaraderie and unity be enlightened and may you continue to provide excellence in all your endeavors as we strive to achieve a healthy and progressive society.

Congratulations and Mabuhay tayong lahat.

MESSAGE

MY warmest greetings and congratulations to the officers and members of the Philippine - American Medical Association in Georgia USA(PAMAG) as you conduct your medical mission.

I commend you for your steadfast commitment to community service, in particular your selfless efforts to safeguard public health especially our children.

The most precious wealth of our province is its people. That is why we have adopted human resources development as one of the five fundamental frameworks of development in Pangasinan.

Through our Kalusugan sa Barangay, we were able to serve the health needs so far of over 150,000 indigent patients in remote barangays and instituted much-needed undertakings to address the other health needs of our constituents. Our Hospital Reform Program is now well in place and has considerably improved the delivery of services and revenues of our local public hospitals.

We were able to accomplish all these feats with the unwavering support of the various civic groups, the private sector, and non-government organizations.

It is my fervent hope that you will continue to be our major partner in promoting the health of our people, even as I call on you to be more united in the pursuit of your goals.

Mabuhay and more power!

OFFICE OF THE CITY MAYOR

MESSAGE

I wish to congratulate the doctors and medical practitioners comprising the Philippine-American Medical Association in Georgia, USA (PAMAG) for continuously revitalizing the medical profession by undertaking a medical mission in Dagupan City on February 2007.

Providing accessible health care services to the people is one of the primary programs of the city government. Your sincere efforts in serving the public inspire us local government leaders to further put basic health care delivery on top of our programs for Dagupan constituencies.

Your many years of dedication in upholding quality health and medical service underscores the progress of your profession that helps transform the lives of our fellow men. Let us take this opportunity to make welfare of the most of everything we have for the community.

Mabuhay and I wish you all the best!

Benjamin S. Lim
City Mayor

Humanitarian and Humane actions which address the health predicaments of people are the activities that matter the most and merit amongst the populace. The Philippine Medical Association In Georgia (PAMAG) embraced the design to help fellow Filipinos by reaching out by arranging and maintaining medical missions for this compassionate purpose.

Activities such as these are always welcome as these somewhat answer to the problems of the society with regards to the concurrent exodus of medical and paramedical health workers, the inaccessibility of health services and the steady rise of health management and maintenance costs.

The Region I Medical Center is very pleased to be the coordinating center of this worthy activity. As always, our hospital had supported and has been a constant venue for consultations and operations of local and foreign missions - the PAMAG Medical Mission foremost.

In behalf of the Administration and staff of the Region I Medical Center, I value the effort and applaud the men and women of the PAMAG. I hope and entreat you all to feel at home during the entirety of our activity because you are home at the Region I Medical Center. I will not only be anticipating more missions with your organization In the future but will be anticipating lasting friendships with the PAMAG workforce. God bless us all.

MESSAGE

In behalf of the officers and members of the Pangasinan Medical Society, my greetings and warmest welcome to the PAMAG Medical Team.

Every year brings about all kinds of opportunities, like everything else that comes in cycles, the start of the new year naturally is accompanied by renewed hope, revitalized vigor and rekindled interest. In no other period in history has there been a clamor for understanding and concern for others than our present times. Amidst the challenges and difficulties of our society, it is heartwarming to note the presence of Fil-Am and local doctors who willingly joined together to play a special role in common endeavors geared towards service to others.

May our sense of mission always guide us in all our undertakings and may God's voice echo in the depths of our hearts so that we will all be endowed a deep sense of joy as we give of ourselves for others.

During my term as PAMAG President 2004-2006, the efforts to hold this 8th Medical Mission to Dagupan City, Pangasinan, got started. I take particularly pride that the idea of collaboration between the PAMAG Medical Mission team and the local resources hospitals, universities, individual Medical-Surgical Mission practitioners, Rotary Club, government, etc. is being actualized.

We are impressed with the hospitality of our hosts.

PAMAG welcome the opportunity to serve our less fortunate brethren to Dagupan City and Pangasinan Province. We are happy to be here.

Thank you ever so much for having us.

May almighty God bless us all.

PAMAG Medical Mission to Dagupan Pangasinenses was the most successful mission ever. In our five day stay we accomplished 118 major surgeries, including the cataract operations and 3 pace maker implants. 96 patients were operated and out patients and 365 individuals received dental treatment. Just as important, the PAMAG team treated and provided free medicines to 3000 indigents of Dagupan City.

This success could not have been accomplished without the dedicated effort of PAMAG missionaries and the tremendous support of the Dagupan Community. Our deep gratitude and thanks are extended to RIMC Chief, Dr. Jesus Canto & Staff, Secretary of Health, Dr. Francisco T. Duque III and Mayor Benjamin Lim, and to our most gracious hosts, the Duque Family

I am very happy that PAMAG Medical Surgical Mission (Philippine American Medical Association of Georgia) had decided to hold our Medical Mission in Dagupan City.

Atty. Gonzalo T. Duque came to see us during our last Mission in Cebu to personally invite us to hold our next Medical Mission in Dagupan City. We really thank him for doing so.

We also thank him for being our local arrangement and we appreciate his trips to Georgia several times to help us in our planning.

It is nice to be back in the hospital where I trained right after graduation and most especially to work with some people that I know very well like Dr. Jesus Canto, who is now the Region 1 Medical Center Chief of Hospital.

PAMAG-Medical Surgical Team is very enthusiastic to serve the indigent people of Pangasinan.

We are also excited to work hand in hand with the Members of Medical and Surgical Societies in Pangasinan.

This Mission is the largest in the history of our Medical Association. And with God's blessings, we hope that our Mission will be successful.

ABOUT PAMAG

Philippine American Medical Association of Georgia

On June 5, 1976, Philippine American physicians in Georgia founded the Philippine American Medical Association of Georgia (PAMAG) in Atlanta, Georgia, USA. Among the written avowed aims and purposes of the association were to highlight the presence of Philippine American physicians in the State and to promote the competence of these physicians through the offering of continuing medical education programs. These have been and are being accomplished. PAMAG members and affiliate members who live, work, and play across Georgia are significant contributors to the overall health and well-being of their respective communities.

Once PAMAG solidified within the USA, it became feasible in 1992 to undertake the first PAMAG Medical Mission to the Philippines, which was mainly surgical in nature, to the poorest of the poor. This was an initiative of Casimiro Garcia, M.D., Mission Committee Chairman and Lorna Beldia O'Brien, M.D., Co-Chairman. Elsewhere in this publication are the names of succeeding Mission Committee leaders. PAMAG Medical Missions had been conducted in Tagbilaran City, Bohol (1992 and 1994); Davao City, Davao (1996); Cagayan de Oro City, Misamis Oriental (1998); Butuan City, Agusan del Norte (2000); Roxas City, Capiz (2003*); Cebu City, Cebu (2005); and now being held in Dagupan City, Pangasinan (2007). PAMAG sincerely acknowledges its numerous donors of funds, equipment and supplies, and medications that made these missions possible.

Endorsed by Francisco T. Duque III, M.D., Philippine Secretary of Health, this 8th PAMAG Medical Mission, February 2 9, 2007, to Dagupan City, composed of some 80 missionaries, including, but not limited to, medical, surgical and dental specialists is by far the largest and most comprehensive yet undertaken by PAMAG. For the first time, it even has a Section on Statistics. This USA contingent is well complemented by the local counterparts. Elsewhere in this publication are shown the local main players, coordinated by Region 1 Medical Center. This is a fantastic demonstration of collaborative work and collegiality.

In 2002, the PAMAG Scholarship Program benefitting college students in the Philippines was initiated under the leadership of Halbert Capuy, M.D. The recipients of this program were and are to be the poorest of the poor to the end that the cycle of poverty in the families of these recipients can be alleviated.

PAMAG is a major player in the anticipated establishment of the Philippine American Center in Georgia (PACG) Mabuhay Cultural Center in Metro Atlanta and donates 10% of its annual funds to the PACG building fund. PACG currently has over $125,000.00 in the bank under the stewardship of PACG Treasurer Orlando Balcon, M.D.

PAMAG looks to the future with the conviction that Philippine Americans in Georgia and their descendants will continue to serve their respective communities in Georgia and beyond that, will be helpful in any way they can to complement what the poorest of the poor in the Philippines can do for themselves.

PAMAG is most grateful to Dagupeños and Pangasinenses for welcoming us so warmly in your midst. Thank you.

History of the Philippine Barong Tagalog

During the Spanish occupation of the Philippines (over 300 years from 1561-1889) the barong tagalog was required by the Spanish government for Filipinos (indios) to be worn at most times to show the difference between the rich and the poor. He said that the poor who serve the rich must always be in uniform.

Take their chauffeurs, maids, and employees as example. They are in uniform to immediately distinguish them from the employers. When the Spaniards colonized the Filipinos, they had to make it abundantly clear who was the boss through the imposition of a dress code. Men are not allowed to tuck their shirttails in. That was the mark of his inferior status. Second, the cloth material should be transparent so that he could not conceal any weapon that could be use against the masters. Third, as a precaution on thievery, pockets are not allowed on the shirt.

By the turn of the century a new middle class began to emerge among the Filipinos. These were known as the principalia. They have mastered spanish laws and were able to obtain title to lands. They became successful in business and agriculture and sent their sons to be educated abroad. They were privileged to build their houses in the poblacion around the plaza near the seats of power. Only a member of the principalia could be addressed by the DON, and only they were allowed to vote. They had all the trappings of power and status, but for one undeniable fact they still had to wear their shirttails out, if only to remind them that they were still Indios.

What the Spanish authorities did not smother out was the Filipino's will power and dermination to psychological conquer their colonial masters, through improvisation and reinterpretation. The Filipino's stylistic bongga (flashy dresser) was a reaction against the overt discrimination and insensitive oppression of the Spaniards. For example, Filipinos are forbidden to use imported silk and fabrics for their barong, so they ingeniously used pineapple leaves to weave the pinya jusi cloth of the barong, turning the outfit into such delicate material, of luminous silky rich mixture much finer than silk. And to add insult to injury, they hand embroidered the front with such exquisite abandon, Calado and hand work all over.

Palgrave, the ethnographer noted, "The capitan's shirt was the native barong, of fine and delicate fiber, embroidered and frilled; it was light and cool and not tucked in the trousers"

The Barong Tagalog gained it power, prestige, and status when President Quezon, the first Filipino President, declared it the National dress. The status of lowly inferior Barong thus became another symbol of Filipino's resistance to colonization. After World War II, Philippine presidents began wearing the Barong Tagalog at their installation into office and on every formal state occasion. In contemporary times the Barong Tagalog is the power dress. As an abogado de campanilla, you cannot afford not to wear the Barong Tagalog when arguing a case in Philippine courts.

Today, every visitor and foreign dignitary invited to a Malacañang Palace state function must, by necessity, and dictated by protocol, be dressed to the nines in a Barong Tagalog. The invitations specifically say come in "Barong" instead of the traditional "Coat and tie". Thus, every one invited to dinner at the Presidential Palace and in many Filipino homes will unknowingly and unwittingly have to experience directly, what it feels to have to wear his shirttails out, to suffer the indignity of having the material of his barong transparent so that he can not conceal any weapon, and horrors, to be accused directly of incipient thievery by having no pockets in his barong to put the silver.

History of Dagupan

The image of the weather-beaten, muscle-bound man of the sea, bronzed and almost nondescript in an old hat called tacoco, steering a sleek boat they called baloto in those days, had been classic Dagupeno bread winner when the Pangasinan waters were fish-laden and pristine.

Dagupan's fame as a trading post even before the coming of the Spaniards was inexorably tied with the sea the marine resources that were lifeblood to the flourishing barter trade that drew intrepid seafarers who brought their valuable goods from across the seas.

Through the 300-years Spanish regime Dagupan's commercial activities thrived, mainly pursued though the wide, swift moving communal waters that criss-crossed the early settlement.

Of the four major rivers of Dagupan, it was Pantal that carried the biggest commercial traffic and the lucrative culture of oysters, shrimps, malaga and mollusks.

Pantal was staging point and means of navigation for the early fish-traders who heavily traded with the Kapampangans and Tagalogs of Nueva Ecija.

The early recorded effort to officially place Dagupan on the map showed Dagupan as a sitio of the Lingayen encomienda, and later as a settlement town the Augustinian friars named Bacnotan. The Name changed prompted a revolt led by Andres Malong, after which the term "Nandaragupan" became popular appellation, for it was in the old entreport, where the people met.

We are honored to be considered for your next Medical Mission Event. The indigent people in Dagupan would indeed be very happy to receive the long awaited Medical and Surgical Care that they would otherwise have to postpone or forgo due to lack of funds.

We will extend any help we can give during this Medical Mission.

Dear Sir:

The Philippine College of Surgeon, Northern Luzon Chapter welcomes the PAMAG Medical-Surgical Mission for its next Mission that is planned for January or February 2007 to be held in the Region I Medical Center.

We are honored to be considered for your next Medical Mission Event. The indigent people in Dagupan would indeed be very happy to receive the long awaited Medical and Surgical Care that they would otherwise have to postpone or forgo due to lack of funds.

We will extend any help we can give during this Medical Mission.

Gentleman,

I spoke with Linda today and she let me know that the request for advices has been officially approved. We are guaranteed four devices - there is a possibility that we may be able to secure a couple more devices if we get close to the date and there are more identified and confirmed patients who need them (I believe that Dr. Beltran had 3 confirmed patients last time we spoke). I have learned that it will be important to the credibility of our request (for future requests) that we do use each and every device that we have requested.

I am truly honored to have the opportunity to join you both on this medical mission!

Sincerely,
Ryan

Dear Ms. Shelley Secord,

I received your Donation letter of an Electrosurgical generators with an estimated value of $3500.00. Did you just recently send this item? Did you send it to Dr. Sam Torres house address or office? Dr. Torres is on vacation, I was able to track him down. He said he has not received it before he left. The attachment that you sent me is blank but I presume it's the same as what you mailed me which I got today. I will get you posted when Dr. Torres receives this Item. Thank you in advance for your generosity. I will acknowledge it in a PAMAG's Letterhead.

Dr. Bautista, please see the attached list of inventory that is available per your MAP Order #18497. Europe has provided a quote for the cost of shipping by air, insurance and handling. I will need to hear from you right away so I can confirm the order to avoid any delay. The staff in Europe will not begin to pick and pack the items until they hear from me.

As soon as I have your confirmation for processing I will charge your credit card with a prepayment amount of $2,887.65 for the inventory. The final charges for freight will be invoiced from MAP after the goods have been shipped.

I will hold this at my desk until I hear from you.

During my fellowship I participated in basic animal research at the Harvard School of Public Health. The research was aimed at studying the effect of different sleep phases on myocardial susceptibility to ventricular fibrillation. I also took part, with the Lown Cardiovascular Group, in the Electrophysiology testing of many, then considered, experimental antiarrhythmic drug protocols e.g. Propafenone.

DR. SYLVIA JOHNSON

A painting of a rural scene with people and a horse. The scene is set outdoors with a thatched-roof structure on the left. A man in a white shirt and cap is seated at a table, while another man in a pink shirt stands nearby. A woman in a white headscarf is carrying a child. A man in a wide-brimmed hat is riding a horse, and another person is carrying a large bundle on their head. The overall atmosphere is one of a busy, rural community.
